Brinks Bull Sale Breaks Industry Records.

The 1983 Brinks Bull Sale was the first of any breed to exceed $2 million. Showing the strength of the Brangus Breed, 69 buyers purchased 85 lots for an average price of $25,682. Total sales grossed $2,182,950 setting many records.

Buyers from 16 states and Mexico included Brangus breeders purchasing herd sire prospects for their registered Brangus herds; Angus breeders purchasing certified 1/4 blood bulls (1/4 Brahman, 1/4 Angus) to breed to their registered Angus females to produce first generation Brangus (1/4 Brahman, 1/4 Angus); and commercial cattlemen purchasing Brangus and 1/4 blood bulls for their commercial herds. The demand for Brinks genetics was greater than ever from all segments of the cattle industry. More important, this demand showed the direction the commercial cattle industry has taken in the last few years in the purchase of Brangus breeding stock.

This is Brinks Brangus 15th year of breeding purebred Brangus cattle. They wish to invite all cattlemen interested in Brangus, from throughout the United States, to attend and help them celebrate their 15th Anniversary dinner, sale and dance.

IF IS WHEN LEGISLATORS GO HOME...

MOVING? Please use form inside paper and give full information. Mail-in list is run on Friday for following week.

All the length & breadth of Texas there are sighs of relief this week since the Legislature wound up its regular session and fears & threats of one kind or another that have been hanging over our heads are either realized or at best been put on the back burner. Practically everybody from the Governor on down, or up, whichever way you prefer, allowed as how there would be no new taxes and before the final bell there had been suggestions for new taxes of almost every kind suggested.

Now if we can just get Congress to call it a summer and go home it may be that we can all get down to business and try to get things back on the track with fewer Government interferences to fear or have to contend with. One of the things that has had our business partly well torn up has been that brucellosis program. They have been working on it ever since.

Bangs Quarantine Would Hit Breeding Stock The Hardest

The USDA's announced quarantine of Texas cattle, the result of inaction by the Texas Senate on the legislation HB 701, was waiting on legal action Tuesday prior to the announced June 1 deadline. The Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn., was due to seek a stay of the action in Federal Court in Austin Tuesday morning.

The quarantine would have wide ranging effect on breeding cattle and breeding age cattle both commercial and registered. The seed stock purchased cattle industry would be hardest hit and several major registered cattle sales slated for this week and in the next few months would be drastically penalized.

Slaughter cattle operations and commercial cattle feeding operations would be less affected. Richard McDonald, a spokesman for the Texas Cattle Feeders Assn., stated that the brucellosis quarantine would have minimal effect on that segment of the industry. He cited the following reasons:

1. Feeder steers and heifers coming into Texas will not be affected.
2. Fed steers and heifers going to slaughter within Texas will not be affected.
3. Steers, fed in Texas and being shipped out of state for slaughter will not be affected.
4. Heifers and bulls fed in Texas "quarantined yards" in status granted many feedyards by the Texas Animal Health Commission and the USDA and going for slaughter outside Texas will not be affected.
5. Heifers and bulls fed in Texas non-quarantined feedyards, of which there are few remaining, and going for slaughter outside Texas would probably have to be back tagged and possibly shipped in sealed trucks to their destinations.
6. Breeding stock and registered seed stock cattle will have to pass two

Fed Cattle, Hogs Sharply Lower At Markets On Tuesday

Weakness in the carcass beef trade carried over from declines late last week pushed fed cattle prices lower at the central markets on Monday. Some cattle moved to cover OME contracts, and others found better outlets from feeder buyers than from packers.

Yearling Supply Up 19% Due to PIK Grazeout, Muddy Lots, Feed Costs Expected to Escalate

Numerous problems confront the cattle and beef industries according to the latest sizeup of the Outlook & Situation survey by the Department of Agriculture recently released and which is reproduced herein.

Commercial beef production in the first quarter rose only 1 percent from a year earlier because of reduced nonfed cattle slaughter and poor feedlot conditions. Cattle slaughter rose only half a percent, but commercial dressed weights averaged 4 pounds heavier as the fed cattle proportion of the marketing mix increased from 70 to 78 percent. Nonfed steer and heifer slaughter declined 85 percent from a year earlier. Cow slaughter declined nearly 3 percent below last winter's level, the first quarterly year-to-year decline since the fall of 1981.

Unusually poor weather conditions held down slaughter weights and marketings. Wet, cold weather and muddy feedlots caused poor weight gains and increased death losses in the High Plains and California from February through late April. Slaughter weights averaged 20 to 30 pounds below year-earlier levels in the High Plains. Conditions worsened in the North Central States in March and early April, and weekly slaughter weights began to drop in late March.

YEARLING SUPPLY UP

Prospects for an excellent grazing year on pastures and ranges this spring, and a grazeout provision for winter wheat resulted in a strong demand for stocker-feeder cattle to remain on pasture during the first quarter. This strong demand for stocker-feeder cattle combined with poor feedlot conditions contributed to a 12 percent decline in net feedlot placements during January-March. The number of cattle outside feedlots on April 1 was 2 percent above a year earlier. All of this gain stemmed from a 19 percent rise in the supply of yearling cattle. The calf supply declined 2 percent, reflecting the smaller 1982 gains and increased death losses in the

Texas Cattlemen Urged To Attend June 7 Meeting in Austin To Air Views On The Brucellosis Quarantine, Needed Action

The following statement by John Joyce, owner of World Sales at Wharton, Texas, was given The Weekly Livestock Reporter Tuesday morning. Joyce and other leading figures in the purebred cattle business are organizing a meeting to which breeders and owners of certified herds are urged to attend. It is planned to have Gov. Mark White and other top state officials present to help with the dilemma. Joyce's statement follows:

We have organized a meeting of representatives of breeders, directors and members of all purebred breed associations in Texas as well as the owners of over 750 certified brucellosis-free herds in the state of Texas to meet on Tuesday, June 7 at the Hilton Hotel on I-35 in Austin at which time we have hopes that the honorable Governor Mark White as well as our Senator Bob Rascoe from Stephenville will be present to listen to our request to have the terms and conditions of House Bill 701 repropose in special session.

The government of the United States, represented by USDA in this matter was not bluffing. The state of Texas faces quarantine and short of secession from the union, I believe the state will be forced to comply with the rules and regulations that the other states follow. It has been the apathy and I guess blind trust of the purebred people and the owners of certified herds that let a handful of commercial cattlemen who have little to lose, and a handful of politicians who have time and money to play games in the courts, and a handful of truly uninformed congressmen who were swayed by those above put our industry in jeopardy. Texas ranks number one in twelve of eighteen recognized beef breeds as far as registration and transfer of purebred cattle. Those of us involved in this phase of an industry that helped build our state's economy now must raise our voices that we may be heard. In Austin to Washington, D.C. in a unified way so loud that it will outweigh the obvious influence of two or three south Texas ranchers who, if they lost all of their cattle tomorrow could simply call it a tax loss. It is unfortunate I admit, that we must act now, after the fact. We should have made every representative and senator aware of the importance of House Bill 701, and insist as their constituents that each be present to vote for the bill. We did not act then, and as a result, the USDA and all the power of the federal government did act, and that is punishing the guilty and innocent together. If they must quarantine them, let them slap the hands of those whose herds are contaminated. Let them slap the hands of those who set themselves above the law at the good of their neighbors. Let them slap the hands of those who would set state's rights above the good of the entire industry losing sight of what is good for the state.

Texas Cattlemen Urged

Those of us with certified herds, sea herds and purebred animals have been a silent, law-abiding group who have stood for the USDA standards years ago, and now we must take stand and be silent no longer. We have, as fellow Texans and fellow Americans, worked hard and spent time and money to do what was right with our cattle. We did not spend our efforts finding judges and sympathetic congressmen, but did what we should have been doing to eradicate this disease. Now we have been punished along with the guilty, the complacent and the inconsiderate. Our greatest error was inaction and we will now change that. We will be heard because we are not, our industry that has grown strong and important, along with our state, will crumble as a result.

Even certified herds of registered commercial cattle would have to comply with this multiple testing procedure, before they could be shipped out of state.

Stuph & Thangs

Progress has been so slow there have not even got an sure fire vaccine developed in all of these years and there are those who argue that about all it has accomplished has been a make work program for vets. However, wavin' a red flag at Govinut Regulators has never been a winnin' proposition and this is why th' mess is in the mess it is in.

Typical of how legislators work was th' way th' House Bill 701 got alid-tracked in th' Texas Senate. There were some legislators interested in wage scales for farm labor and also in interested in gittin' workman's compensation for farm and ranch workers. Owners of farms and ranches have had some bitter medicine to take when they tried to furnish health insurance for their employees. It seems that as soon as they tried to let someone go they would come down with an aching back or some kind of injury, real or imagined, which was supposedly picked up on th' job and th' problem of tryin' to weed out th' fakers was impossible and none of th' insurance carriers are after this kind of business very hard.

These folks said if they could git th' votes for workers comp, minimum wages and various other things they would vote for th' cattlemen's bill. To date th' result has been a messier mess th' further it went.

Today th' matter is bein' placed in th' hands of a federal court as th' cattlemen seek relief from th' Burrocrats grip. It is sad, but true, that it looks like in most cases th' federal courthouse is th' only way to git th' Govinut off th' backs of business.

At least it does not appear th' Legislature will be back after us for a couple of months when they will probably have a Special Session, so durin' that interval we had jist better relax and enjoy it. They'll be back, with taxes.

Ever thins.
The Editor.

P.S.: Uncle Dunk says one of those little oddities of America is that a 5-cent tax on gasoline can add up to a 20-cent rise in th' price. Uncle Dunk says those Sun Set laws can have some far reachin' results. For instance, it looks like unless somethin' is done right away th' Texas Employment Commission is out of business and if Gov. White vetoes some legislation that passed th' Rail Road Commission is out of business, too! —Thassal, Brothers!

History and Facts on American Beefalo

The following article outlining the history and facts on Beefalo cattle was prepared by ABA Director Jim Wells of Ontario, Canada.

The American Beefalo is a cross between two distinct species and therefore a true hybrid animal. The Beefalo has been crossed and selected to produce a combination of 3/8 Bison, 5/8 bovine genetics. Although hybrid animals are incapable of reproduction, Beefalo are fertile and exhibit a conception rate as high or higher than any domestic cattle breed. Remember that all bison-bovine crosses are NOT Beefalo.

The bovine portion in Beefalo may be from any breed. Most are from a beef breed or combination of beef breeds. Because of this mixture, Beefalo have no specific color or color pattern. They may be horned or polled.

Beefalo exhibit a calm disposition and a nature as unexcitable as any bovine. Fencing requirements for Beefalo are no different from those for pure domestic. They are gentle, docile cattle which are easy to handle and control.

Calving ease is an important attribute of Beefalo. Calves average 60 to 75 pounds birthweight, a significant reason for very few calving problems.

Beefalo cows are excellent mothers. They are protective of their young. Rich milk from the Beefalo cow results in rapid weight gain of nursing calves. Average daily gain of nursing calves is outstanding.

During Agriculture Canada's cattle experiment, data on calf performance was gathered from 1961 to 1967. Birth weight of calves from dams of high percentage bison was found to be lower than for those of low percentage bison.

Average daily gain of all nursing cattle calves was found to be higher than for the pure domestic bovine calves. In ranking of ADG, cattle calves from 60 percent bison dams were highest, cattle from 1/4 bison cows second, and cattle from less than 1/4 bison cows third.

Pure domestic bovine calves ranked fourth. Researchers attributed an adjusted average 84.9 pound advantage of cattle at weaning to superior nursing ability.

Foraging ability of the Beefalo is better than that of the pure domestic bovine. Beefalo inherit from bison an ability to consume roughage and to perform well on it, converting it to weight gain without extensive grain feeding.

Tests have shown that Beefalo on roughage outgain both Beefalo and pure domestic on grain rations. On pasture, Beefalo have less of the pure domestic tendency to graze the lush grasses first. Pure bovine animals tend to eat the better tasting grasses, rejecting others until the preferred ones are too short to graze. Beefalo will seek the better grazing areas, but will eat some of whatever grows.

Beefalo cattle are expected to have greater longevity than pure bovine animals due to partial inheritance of the bison's long lifespan of 35 to 40 years. More importantly, the productive life of females should be greater. Pure bovine females reproduce for eight to 10 years with 12 reproductive years being about maximum. It is known that pure bison females have a reproductive life about twice that of domestic bovine females.

Females of 1/2 bison and 1/2 bovine have been known to calve at 25 years of age.

The specific longevity and reproductive life of Beefalo cannot be accurately stated until a number of animals have existed for sufficient years to obtain valid data. If we could assume that an animal of 3/8 bison would inherit 3/8 of the difference in reproductive life of bison and pure bovine, we would expect Beefalo to produce calves for 4 to 5 years longer than the average pure bovine.

Any improvement in reproductive life will have a significant effect on the efficiency of cattlemen. Female beef animals are good primary producers of protein. One calf each year for 15 years is one calf each year for 15 years on investment is obvious.

The extremely rugged nature of Beefalo is inherited from bison. Having up to 8 times more per square inch than pure bovine, Beefalo are well-proportioned, cold. Winter hardiness, tolerance and the ability to tolerate heat was confirmed and demonstrated in Agriculture Canada's experiment. To this advantage reduced winter feed costs, willingness in northern climates to work and able to graze under conditions. Harvest is a year-round activity to serve the winter hardiness of Beefalo. In this respect, which makes them tolerant of the cold climate, they inherit from the bison the ability to persevere. This makes Beefalo to hot weather. One effect has been noted by cattlemen who containing both pure bison and Beefalo occurs at mid-day when a number of cattlemen have commented that while pure domestic the shade Beefalo continue to graze.

Beefalo cattle produce a desirable carcass. The carcass is edible meat to animal livestock. Beefalo have been found to be very high quality domestic cattle. This has been documented by several different organizations.

The eating quality of Beefalo is excellent. Results from a University of Alabama study confirm that the meat produced from animals on roughage ration was equal in quality to choice grade, corn fed beef. The majority of consumers have tasted Beefalo beef and pure domestic beef.

John Bulling welcomes the crowd to the Extra Strength Genetics Hereford Sale, April 11 in Orlando, OK.

Special Hereford Steer Show Rules Are Outlined

Kansas City—The Sixth American Royal Special Hereford Steer Show is scheduled for Sunday, November 6, 1983, 12:30 p.m., in the American Royal Livestock Show arena in Kansas City.

The innovative steer classic is considered throughout the beef industry as one of the most realistic approaches to steer shows. Increased interest from beef cattle producers and other major livestock shows has contributed to the show's success and has encouraged the continuation of this American Royal event.

The American Hereford Association, the American Polled Hereford Association, the American Royal Livestock show and several other community and industrial organizations share the sponsorship of the terminal show.

Entries are open to all 4-H, FFA, AHA or APHA junior members with a Hereford or Polled Hereford steer calving on or after March 1, 1982. Steers must be sired by a registered Hereford or Polled Hereford bull and out of a purebred Hereford or Polled Hereford dam. Both the breeder and exhibitor are required to certify the birthdate and ancestry of the entry prior to October 1, 1983. All entries will be subject to age and parentage verification.

Entries will be measured for fat cover at the twelfth rib and have a weight-per-day-of-age score calculated as they enter the show arena. Classes will be determined by age rather than weight, and live placings will not be designated.

Final placing of steers will be determined by an index based 40% on live placing and 60% on total carcass retail value-per-day-of-age.

To qualify for consideration in the final index, an entry must meet five minimum carcass standards, including (1) hot carcass weight of 575-600 pounds; (2) marbling score of slight or better; (3) carcasses with slight degree of marbling must have a minimum of .3 inch backfat cover; (4) carcass weight-per-day-of-age of 1.1 pounds or greater; and (5) USDA cutability yield grade of three or better.

A minimum of $4,000 in prize money will be divided among the competitors with $1,500 pledged to the live placings, $2,000 divided according to carcass index, and $500 divided among the exhibitors and breeders of the grand and reserve grand champions. Additional support totaling $5,000 will be paid to the exhibitors of the champion and reserve champion steers for purchase of the winning entries by area business organizations.

The special steer show, created to return practically to the steer show arena, has sparked much enthusiasm and support in the beef cattle industry. The competition in the show reflects the demands and needs of today's beef cattle business and the support of the cattlemen.

Complete details and application/certification forms are available by contacting the American Hereford Association or American Polled Hereford Association Youth Departments.

He also announced that the Show was donating $750,000 to its endowment scholarship program from residual funds made available due to the fantastically successful 50th Anniversary Show in 1982.

"We are increasing the amount of our four-year, $6,000 scholarship awards to $8,000 each, while our one-year, $1,500 awards will be increased to $2,000 each," said Gerhart. "The increase is inclusive, covering all our scholars, winners, regardless of classification. Any remaining monies will be held at the same rate as new awards. Of this increase is $500,000, and the Show's commitment to this program is $1 million. "That's the Show's motto."

Next time you'd like to throw back more than you keep, Beefmaster bulls are near perfect for cows that aren't. No matter what your cows look like—straightbreds, crossbreds or mixed—Beefmaster bulls give you greater uniformity and performance in the calves. You get more "keepers," more calves that look and perform alike.

It's simple to get those better looking, better performing calves. All you do is change the bull.

million dollar pledge to those students already in school, as well as to the new award recipients this year," noted Gerhart.

The $700,000 donation to the endowment program brings the Show's total endowment funding to an outstanding $8.4 million, since the program's inception in 1978. Twelve Texas universities have benefited from funds through this program, which are one-time gifts to the universities. Interest from the funds provides scholarship assistance to deserving students majoring in agriculture.

More than 900 students will receive Houston Livestock Show and rodeo scholarship funds in the coming school year," explained Gerhart. "This includes some 478 four-year award winners, plus endowment scholars, one-year awards recipients, graduate students and doctoral fellows. This is an incredible tribute to the enthusiastic and continuing community and public support of our Show and of our programs that has made it all possible."

The funding increase announcement was made at the 1983 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo.

were the highlights of the membership meeting, where plans for the 1984 Show, including new events and rules changes, also were explained. Eight new members of the Show's Board of Directors were elected also.

New events for the livestock show include a miniature horse show, sanctioned by the American Miniature Horse Association, a dairy goat competition and a Longhorn Cattle sale. The show is again the site of the National Cutting Horse Association World's Championship Finals. NCHA action begins on February 18; other livestock and horse show events begin February 18; all events conclude on March 4.

Rules changes center on the junior livestock show market animal competition. "These rules changes will be implemented for 1984 Show and are designed to clarify some existing rules, as well as strengthen the structure and relevancy of these market divisions," said Gerhart.

At the 1984 Show, a three judge system will be used in judging the market steer show, making Houston the first livestock show in Texas to use this method.

A new carcass contest is being implemented in the junior steer, lamb and barrow shows. "We will require all first and second place class winners in these three divisions to enter the carcass competition. Rules will require those top animals be of highly acceptable quality grade after slaughter," noted Gerhart. "We'll have top meat graders and scientists to make the final grade determination before any premiums are awarded. This emphasizes our Show's continuing commitment to market quality and to the best return for the consumer's food dollar."

Additionally, rules changes state that a junior exhibitor found in violation of any of the livestock show rules would be barred forever from showing at Houston. The ban would extend to any member of his family as well. Also, after slaughter, if an animal shown by a junior exhibitor is found to have been tampered with or altered, all sale money for the animal would be withheld. "Implementation of these rules will assure the integrity and standards of excellence that are the hallmarks of our Houston Show," Gerhart said. Notification of all rules changes will be made well in advance of entry deadlines.

Elected for their first terms to the Board of Directors were Leroy "Sonny" Bahner, George A. DeMontmond, III, David G. Eller, James J. Janke, Willard Mercier, Dr. David E. Mouton, Bill Scholtzfeldt and Robert H. Smith, III. The Rodeo Parade is scheduled for Saturday, February 18, with the opening rodeo performance set for Wednesday, February 22. All events conclude on March 4, 1984.

A "little ear" on feeder calves has become an important marketing factor in recent years.

Some feeders are demanding that their order buyers select calves with some Brahman in their genetic make-up.

We think one of the best tools available to put a "little ear" on your feeder calves is to turn out a Beefmaster bull.

Local packers continue to buy practically entire movement with only scattered loads light weight helters sold for shipment outside of the area. The average live weight of most cattle slaughtered in area packing plants last week was 1031 lb. compared to 1033 lb. the previous week and 1039 lb. during the corresponding week a year ago.

AVOID CHANGING WELL LEATHERS FOR MANY YEARS
Perma-cups are molded urethane, more wear resistant than nylon. Perma-cups will outlast leathers 10 to 1. The tapered design allows only 1/8" wear, instead of 5/8" of a leather. Much less friction for easier pumping extends cylinder life greatly. Perma-cups must be used in a good or new cylinder, as they do not swell. Install Urethane Perma-cups, Urethane Check-balls, and Urethane Pump Rod-guides, and don't pull that well for many years. Thousands are in wells that have not been relined in 5 years! All are available in standard cylinder and pipe sizes. Write or call for our catalog. We ship same day order is received. We are our 33rd year serving ranchers.

SUPER EXTRA

Oakway Farms bull Sets Breed Record

D.C. Henson and John Sosnowy of Oakway Farms Red Brangus, Cameron, Texas, have announced the sale of a 1/10 semen interest and no possession in Super Extra 568/1 for $20,000 to Dr. Leonard Shockey of Pinebluff, Texas. This places a $200,000 value on this two year old bull, a Red Brangus breed record for a Red Brangus herd sire prospect.

"We thought his sire, Extra, was the best bull in the Red Brangus breed," said Dr. Shockey. "That's why we used our three best cows in embryo transfer bred to Extra." Super Extra is superior to his sire in all four categories of 205 day weight (780 lbs.), 365 day weight (1807 lbs.), frame score (3.2), and 865 day scrotal circumference (18cm).

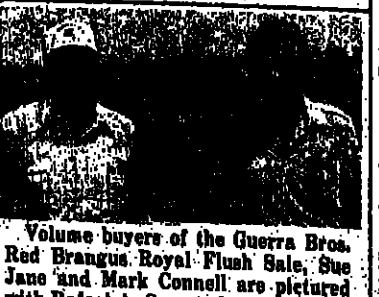

Although he just turned two on March 11, Super Extra weighs 1805 lbs. and stands 62 inches at the hip. Not only does Super Extra carry his sire's muscling, bone, and tremendous thickness in the rear end, but he also enjoys a gentle disposition.
